Jamie – After looking for work for 9 months I was finally given my absolute dream job! It was a hard process and I really struggled along the way but I should have never given up hope! God has a perfect plan for our lives and always provides for our needs! Amen! Looking back on it all now it all makes sense why He brought us here to Canada and what He has been teaching us through this refining time! He is faithful! Hallelujah! Thank you for praying.

Michael – My friends Cody and Jess have remained in the Lord despite the loss of their expected son Joseph. And Jess has been healed from the early delivery and health complications that ensued after. Both have felt the love of Jesus as friends, family, and the body of Christ came around to support them during this time of tragic loss.

Ric –

On Good Friday during worship Holy Spirit started a work in my heart as we sang the song with Lion of Judah refrain. On Sunday He continued speaking to my heart and during the message I sensed God speaking to me that there was a hardness in my heart. A hardness of anger, criticism and pain. I felt Him telling me to roll the stone away and let Him in. Honestly I wasn't prepared for this. But as Pastor Peter began to pray I felt drawn to the altar. I went forward but in the corner by the wall and knelt and wept and prayed. Telling the Father how sorry I was that I had kept Him out. Then when the Worship team went into the song again I felt a rush of wind fill my heart and soul and my spirit burst into life like a renewal, just like being revived or baptized again. I stood like stepping out of a dark room. I started dancing and praising with all my heart. I was swept away. Then I felt a tapping on my shoulder. My dear brother spoke to me and asked could I pray for a young woman who was with him. He stepped away and I asked her what it was she wanted to pray about. She said she was in a very dark time and her heart had become hardened with anger, criticism and pain. She asked could I help her in prayer. I started to weep and explained what I had just experienced. Tears filled her eyes and said please can we pray. And so we did. The strange thing is as I said I was in the corner not where the altar team was praying for others. Michael told me later he saw her standing in the aisle by the wall apart from where people were praying . I was facing the cross worshiping and was not aware she was there. He asked her if she was waiting for someone and she said was waiting for prayer. So he asked me. God is moving so powerfully in this church. We don't have to wait or ask for revival. We are in the midst of a powerful outpouring. I believe it is more than we've yet experienced.

Scarlett –

I have been actively looking for alternative employment since last year. My personal circumstances no longer permitted to maintain the high demand of my current position. In the beginning of this year, I fully put my trust in Jesus and asked him to guide me to the right job. By His grace, I was offered a position that offers me more flexibility to manage my personal circumstances. To God be the glory!
